PATROLMAN TEAM TO REVIVE INFANT

The Fire Departments of Brisbane and Bayshore merged efforts with a highway patrolman to save the life of year-old Dianne Reynolds recently after she had been seized with convulsions at her home, 27 Tulare St., Brisbane.

A doctor in attendance called inhalator equipment from the local department, which enlisted the aid of neighboring Bayshore for more oxygen when its supply ran low. When the second oxygen tank appeared inadequate, Highway Patrolman Frank Chevalier raced to San Francisco for more.

Revived, the child was taken to Community Hospital in San Mateo, where her condition was described as satisfactory.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

Brisbane Chamber of Commerce,
Brisbane, California

Attention: Mr. A. E. Kennedy,
Secretary-Manager
Gentlemen:

Reference is made to your letter of November 8, 1948, and our acknowledgment of November 23, 1948, both relating to conditions on the Bayshore Highway between the South San Francisco County line and Geneva Avenue. Our reply was deferred pending completion of a study by our San Francisco District Offce and their discussion with you on January 28, 1949, covering the same subject.

The traffic signal at the Geneva intersection was recently revised to favor northbound traffic on the Bayshore Highway. We are informed that this revision has successfully aided traffic, in that left turns into the Southern Pacific shops are now controlled by traffic actuation. As most of the Southern Pacific employees are in the company's shops by 7:00 a. m. We recently observed this signal during peak-hour operations and there was no back-up of traffic. It is possible that some back-up of vehicles might occur around the curve past the Consolidated Chemical Plant at times, due to the operation of the signal. However, this back-up will be normal, and only a very short delay will result.

With regard to your suggestion of adding another lane at various locations to speed up traffic and relieve local congestion for short periods during the day; this work would be of a temporary nature and would not be economically justified, as funds for the construction would have to be diverted from some other critical project. This diversion in turn would delay the final solution of the problem, which is the construction of a full six-lane freeway section north from the present freeway terminus at Sierra Point.

As you know, from your meeting with Mr. Skeggs and Mr. Weymouth on January 28, 1949, our advanced Planning Program provides for the construction of a six-lane freeway through the Brisbane area. When completed, we are sure this facility will provide adequate traffic service to your city.

Yours very truly,
G. T. McCoy
State Highway Engineeer.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS

Well folks the next to the largest show is over for us and we are more proud than ever before, of your own BSA-CSA 134 Brisbane Drum and Bugle Corps.

They displayed their wares and tares, Sunday, April 10th by coordinating their Scout-O-Rama program with the Goden Gate Park Concert Band and, the Brisbane foks that came out to see, know the resuts.

To the Brisbane folks that were not present we say: "come out to the Cow Palace, April 22 and 23 at 7:30 P. M. (The Scout-O-Rama and you will see a professional show put on by a bunch of boys, ranging in age from 9 to 15 years, that will take top billing in almost any show.

The audience at the Golden Gate Park proved, by their response, that they appreciate the job these boys are doing.

The following boys took part in the Drum and Bugle Corps:

A job well done boys—we are proud of you and will never let you down as long as you show us this kind of appreciation for our work for and with you.

We were also very proud and appreciate the turnout of the Scout and Cub Flag Bearers. This added color was very nice and we thank you for your helping hand. The following Flag Bearers took part: Scouts Ashley Emery and Vincent Reese and Cubs Chas. Adkisson, Ronald Grewell, Jimmie Cox, Michael Parrish, Dale Peuschel Carl Reid and William Strassburger II.

We also wish to thank all of the parents and friends in helping us with transportation and aid in helping to handle the program so well — The Delbons, Grabosky, Heinzer, Hogues, Jensens, Virgil Smiths, Souzas, Sowards, Wakelees and Woodards.

We need this adult help on each of our ventures and sincerely hope we get more volunteers of this kind in order that so much dependence will not have to be put on the same people each time. If we can get a registration of 18 or more cars for transportation then it would only be necessary to call on the same persons each third time we go out. How about it Parents? If you wish to register call Brady, JU. 4-6893 or Brown, JU. 5-1124.

We have on hand now, a date for the final Scout-O-Rama rehearsal on Tuesday April 19th and the Scout-O-Rama, April 22 and 23. Anyone that can help with transportation these three nights please call and let us know which night you can help.

We have invitations on hand, that have to be voted on yet. for the following parades:

May Day Parade, Daly City, Sunday, May 1st.

May Day Parade, Los Banos, Sunday, May 1st.

Mission Fiesta, San Rafael, Sunday, May 22nd.

These will be voted on at our next regular meeting and the announcement of the results will be made later.

That's it folks — See you later.

PENINSULA PICKINGS

By Barry Glick
Know Thy Neighbor

I don't remember whether this stage advice came from the Bible or from Abdallah Ibn Yasin when he founded the empire of the Almoravides. However, I have one specific neighbor in mind for the people of this Peninsula area to know. I refer to the little neighboring community known as Brisbane.

Yesterday marked the first time in all the years that I have been on the Peninsula that I visited Brisbane. It was in a heavy downpour that I got my first glimpse of Brisbane and two comparative thoughts came to my mind. One was, "This is just like a scene out of a western movie." The second was, "Here before me is an exact, picturesque duplicate of Sonora, the historical mining town in the heart of the fabulous Mother Lode country." But, I'm getting ahead of myself chronologically.

Many of you have come within three blocks of Brisbane without ever seeing more than a few of its homes perched in the upper hills area, as you swept along the Bayshore Highway, so follow me on this word sightseeing trip, then see it for yourself the next time you go for a leisure ride.

* * *

Ten Miles North of Burlingame turn left off the highway into a cut in the lofty hills. You'll traverse a half circle a distance of approximately three blocks and lo before your eyes will unfold the most picturesque, the most novel community on the Peninsula.

* * *

You are now on Visitacion Ave. the business section, comprising four long blocks on an incline. You'll see Buffalo Billy's Bootery, the Sweet Shop, The Fountain of Youth where the youngsters congregate for Cokes, Dick's Tower where the oldsters congregate for something else besides Coke, in 23 Club, a name dating back years when "23 skidoo kid," was the popular saying. You'll note the little Brisbane theatre where Edward G. Robinson is currently starring in "Night Has A Thousand Eyes." You'll see the locally owned Five and Dime store housed in a realty tract office; you'll note the spacious ground floor office of Dr. Fred H. H. Lawrence, and you'll note, among other things, the absence of chain stores. You'll also take note of V. V. Gilman's Drug Store which is also an information center.

* * *

Of all these various places, one will seem to stick in your mind —Dick's Tower, because of raids made there by officers in quest of gambling violations. But, the good folks of Brisbane like to have visitors know that Dick's Tower is overshadowed by the fact that the little community of 4500 men, women and children give fine support to four churches Incidentally, talking about children, there are 420 of 'em attending Brisbane Elementary School. Here, a teaching staff of 13 is headed by Natalie Lipman as superintendent and Lois Barry as principal.

* * *

But Let's get on with our travelogue. Few communities in California, unlike Brisbane, can point to the fact that no through traffic is possible. Brisbane is situated on semi-circular hillside, its streets winding in tier formation.

Even the most foolhardy refrains from going in other than second gear on most of the thoroughfares. But, as stated before, its natural hill barriers preclude through traffic. There's law in Brisbane, as symbolized by Dan Case, district police officer. He likewise has his citizen aides. But, trafffic violators are almost minus Brisbane leods a somewhat free and easy existence. Practically all of tthe community's bread winners have employment in the San Francisco - South San Francisco - Daly City area.

The gals in their slacks and bandanas, are likewise part of the scenery. I noted some very attractive ones there yesterday.

One special call requiring extreme speed and efficiency was credited to saving the life of 2 year old Diane Reynolds of Brisbane. The little girl was being treated by Dr. Guardino for convulsions requiring the use of the resuscitator. Sixteen bottles of oxygen were used and as the need for more was becoming apparant a call was sent out to Chief King of the Bayshore. Patrolman F. After two hours of administering aid the child was taken to Community Hospital in San Francisco and is now at home and well again.

Many thanks to Fire Chief King and F. Chevalier for the prompt assistance.

CROCKER ESTATE PLANS FOR MODEL INDUSTRIAL CENTER AT BRISBANE

A long range plan of the Crock- Estate interests calls for Brisbane to have one of the "finest and most careful planned industrial areas in the West."

This was the statement of W. F. Morton, Crocker Estate official in answer to rumors prevalent in Brisbane to the effect that construction on an industrial project was to start on the Bayshore frontage immediately north of the entrance road to Brisbane.

The Crocker Estate owns 3600 acres in the area between Brisbane and Daly City.

A year ago grading was started on the area designated for industrial development. Moorton emphasized that the project now is only in the planning stage.

He said, "We are securing engineering advice on how to put the area to the best possible use. There are drainage and road problems to consider. We are starting from scratch with our plans and are proceeding cautiously. Therefore no immediate construction can take place.

'We want a model industrial area, one that people will hear about and know about all over the United States. It will be the best which money can buy, the finest and most carefully planned industrial area in the West."

Much of the 3600 acreage is mountainous, but a large portion will lend itself to home development, a matter also being taken into consideration by the Crocker interests.

"COLD RUBBER" TIRES

Car owners in Brisbane now have an opportunity to buy "Cold Rubber" tires, says Alan Bybee, manager of the Bybee Bros'. Sales and Service.

The new rubber has been described as the "Miracle" rubber in many recent magazine articles, because tests have proved it wears 30 to 40 percent longer in tire treads than the best natural rubber. "Actually," says Alan, "this will mean a year of extra tire service for the avarage motorist."

Bybee Bros. Sales and Service has just received a shipment of these new "miracle" tires from the Gates Rubber Company of Denver, Colorado. Gates, in collaboration with the Copolymer Corp., a government owned plant in Baton Rouge, La., played a leading part in the development of the new low temperature rubber, and is among the first to put it into tire production.

The new rubber is called "cold" because it is processed at temperatures lower than those previously used. The low temperature process has given scientists a closer control over the physical structure of the rubber and makes possible a material of extreme toughness and durability.

"Naturally," Alan says, "since Gates was a leader in the development of the new super rubber, Gates research engineers have been able to make great strides in the use of the new material. This, coupled with other advanced engineering features in the Gates Air-Float tire, has now, for the first time, made possible really long mileage with the new extra low pressure' type of tire."

"Tires of this type operate under more severe stress than other tires," says Alan. "Up to now, many people who have late model cars equipped with these tires have been greatly disappointed with the service their tires have delivered."

"But now," says Alan, "We can give the motorist "Cold Rubber" tires in the extra low pressure sizes that will wear as well as premium quality standard tires." Alan has authentic photos showing the exceptional mileage the "Cold Rubber" Gates Air-Float extra low pressure tires are delivering.

By BRIS - BETTE

The tired old hills have taken on a new look, and the wind is somersaulting up and down the grassy slopes these days. The girls have taken to sun-suits, and the boys have taken to baseball. Easter the movable day on our calendar is almost here. The Sunday following the first full moon after the vernal equinox, and it regulates all other festival days of the ecclesiastical year. The season of new hope, when the forgotten chapters of life return with pushbutton clarity. Won't you come out Easter morn and watch the parade? The time, 12 noon when the churches open their doors after the service. Old and young in their flora and fauna.

In Holland the 3rd Sunday in April is Tulip Sunday. It is a day of thanksgiving for the flower which has helped to make the country famous.

On the seamy side of life, one thing that Brisbane residents are not bothered with is the landlady hanging out bedsheets in declaration of war against rent control. The majority of our people own their "hogans"

Many changes in policy and personnel these past weeks, local and otherwise. A somewhat disturbed ciizen called to solicit help against canine population. He says the town is going to the dogs. Jimmy Durante would say, "Seems as if everyone wants to get into the act." Why not dogs? My pooch is a peaceful little fellow, I nominate him for mayor.

With Easter and Spring comes the urge to clean house.

Renew the luster and finish of your "pile" fabrics (velvets, mohair, etc.) by steaming the pile. Spread a damp cloth well wrung out over a section and touch lightly with a hot iron. The steam will refresh the fibres and draw them erect. While the fabric is still damp, go over it with a brush of medium stiffness. When thoroughly dry, brush the fabric against the pile. "Flat" fabrics against the pile. "Flat" fabrics (denim, damask, chintz, etc.) have no pile to absorb spillage, so brushing is excellent for their general care.

Drain the wash water from your machine thru an ordinary seive, when you are washing blankets, and you will have less trouble with your drains.

Fresh peas will soon be plentiful. Add a little scraped onion to them just before serving. Scraped onion and diced celery, added to baked macaroni, will give it that new and different taste.

When it comes to desserts, we think there's hardly anything better than good apple pie. But even the most ardent pie eaters like a change. Try this frozen apple treat.

APPLE MARSHMALLOW FLOAT

1½ cups hot applesauce
1 package lemon gelatin
¾ cup pineapple juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon and nutmeg.
White of 1 egg
Marshmallows

Dissolve gelatin in hot applesauce. Add other ingredients and freeze partially. Beat thoroughly and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Freeze until firm, Cut Marshmallows into quarters and pile into glasses. Top with frozen apple mixture.

The children will love an Easter Bunny Cake. Bake two of your favorite white layers. When cool, frost as follows: Make a seven-minute icing. Frost sides and top of cake, saving a small amount of icing. Add 2 teaspoons of melted butter and green coloring. Decorate rim of cake with this green icing, allowing it to drip over the edge to resemble grass. While frosting is soft, make bunnies with large, fresh marshmallows which are pinched with thumb and finger at one end for nose and other for tail. Dip toothpick in melted chocolate and make dots for eyes. Large ears are cut from white writing paper. Arrange a row of these bunnies around edge of cake.

William Lyon Phelps once said, "The only war I ever approved of was the Trojan war; it was fought over a woman and the men knew what they were fighting for." Sounds like good logic.

....Note to the Teacher:

Dear teacher: You must not slap Johnny, as we believe in raising our children without extreme punishment. We do not think it helps Johnny, and we never whack him except in self defense.

Signed, Johnny's Mother.

With several other celebrities these artists made personal appearances in San Francisco for the opening of the 1949 Red Cross Drive.

"THE SEAMAN OF THE SEALED CAR" STOPS IN BRISBANE

Don Haynes, the man who voluntarily locked himself in a car for the period of a year, on a wager, stopped in Brisbane at the Foutain of Youth for a snack recently.

A former member of the Maritime Service, Haynes got the inspiration for the idea to tour the United States for 1 year, sealed in a car, while sailing in Alaskan waters. The tour started in Ashland, Oregon, February 19th and he hopes to visit all 48 States and will have official seals pressed on to the car. He was presented with such a seal in Sacramento, California which was the first state visited besides Oegon. Haynes will visit all major league baseball cities soon, The Indianapolis Speedway on May 30, and when he completes his year's tour will appear in the Rose Bowi parade.

The car he is driving is a 1949 Kaiser De Luxe. Ashland, his hometown, is the place where the famus Shakesperian Festival is presented each year by the Southern Oregon College of Education. It is also a large lumbering and agricultural center.

If Haynes completes the tour, he will win a $25,000 wager by C. D. Mauldin, Championship Rodeo performer.

Age limit on the Club 10 to 17.

The boys are having a beautiful scroll made by Mr. Wally Delbon, who is donating it for the charter members.

The club is still willing to accept new members, so if you eligible boys are in it come down and look it over.

The club meets every Monday night at the recreation center at 7:30 p. m.

THREE BRISBANE DISTRICTS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

A "fair number" of Brisbane voters went to the polls during Monday's April 4 special election to cast ballots for officers of Brisbane fire, police protection and county water districts.

David R. Reed was elected fire district commissioner with a total of 310. He defeated Don W. Smith who received 173 votes.

New commissioner of the police protection district is Virgil D. Gilman who bested his opponent, Don Carrigan. Gilman's and Carrigan's total were 379 and 112, respectively.

The five directors selected for the recently- formed Brisbane county water district are Edgar W. Dagler, 366 votes; Arthur E. Kennedy, 360; David R. Reed, 349; Raymond C. Brown, 331; and Preston G. Barnes, 309.

Two other candidates for director posts were Alfred Pistohl, 296 votes, and Richard Burr, 196.

The water district was formed at a special election in January. The district is expected to purchase and improve the facilities of the privately owned water system which formerly supplied the area.

The Brisbane police protection district also has been under recent fire. A petition asking dissolution of the district as sent to the county board of supervisors last month but did not contain enough valid signatures to take effect.

Numerous civic groups and citizens gave the police district votes of confidence and assured its continuance.
